Report:In a society, everyone has the right to lead his/her life accordingly without any discrimination. When this state is achieved where all individuals are considered to be equal irrespective of their caste, gender, color, profession, and status, we call it equality. Equality can also be defined as the situation where every individual has the same rights and equal opportunity to grow and prosper.

In this century, women and men enjoy the same privileges. The perception is changing slowly but steadily. People are now becoming more aware of their rights and what they can do in a free society. It has been found that when women and men hold the same position and participate equally, society progresses exclusively and creates a landmark. When a community reaches gender equality, everyone enjoys the same privileges and gets similar scopes in education, health, occupation, and political aspect. Even in the family, when both male and female members are treated in the same way, it is the best place to grow, learn, and add great value.

Once all these menaces will be eradicated, every family will understand the value of a woman and our country will achieve gender equality in a real sense. Women are creating examples everywhere and we all should highlight them to change the scenario and give them equal rights. In the end, the performance of India in the Olympics 2021 is the current example where India has won seven medals. Out of those seven medals, six came in individual events and out of those six medals, female athletes won three. It shows that even after facing such hardship, their performance is at par with male athletes. With so much potential, it is only a matter of time when women will overtake men and have all their abilities on display for the world to see!

Report: The theme for the International Day of Rural Women (15 October), "Rural Women Cultivating Good Food for All", highlights the essential role that rural women and girls play in the food systems of the world.

From production of crops to processing, preparing and distributing foods, women's labour – paid and unpaid – feeds their families, communities and the world. Yet, they do not wield equal power with men, and as a result, they earn less income and experience higher food insecurity.

Despite our planet's capacity to provide sufficient and good food for all, hunger, malnourishment, and food insecurity are rising in many parts of the world. The COVID-19 pandemics, along with climate crises, have made matters worse: some 2.37 billion people did not have enough to eat in 2020 –that's 20 per cent more than the year before.

Report: The most important part is to have a thorough knowledge and awareness about privacy and cyber-crimes to avoid people being vulnerable to such threats. There has to be more education on cyber-crimes and online fraud and how to get rid of them or handle them.

Cyber literacy should start from the basic level with adequate knowledge about good operating practices. It is necessary to remain extra vigilant about cyber privacy and security. Proper awareness and education can help teach good habits and practices while working online with digital devices.

There is also a need for stricter law enforcement and punishment for offenders. Media interventions for creating public awareness can make an effective contribution in bringing about changes in the attitudes of people towards gender norms.

Report: In a society, everyone has the right to lead his/her life accordingly without any discrimination. When this state is achieved where all individuals are considered to be equal irrespective of their caste, gender, color, profession, and status, we call it equality. Equality can also be defined as the situation where every individual has the same rights and equal opportunity to grow and prosper.

In this century, women and men enjoy the same privileges. The perception is changing slowly but steadily. People are now becoming more aware of their rights and what they can do in a free society. It has been found that when women and men hold the same position and participate equally, society progresses exclusively and creates a landmark. When a community reaches gender equality, everyone enjoys the same privileges and gets similar scopes in education, health, occupation, and political aspect. Even in the family, when both male and female members are treated in the same way, it is the best place to grow, learn, and add great value.

Once all these menaces will be eradicated, every family will understand the value of a woman and our country will achieve gender equality in a real sense. Women are creating examples everywhere and we all should highlight them to change the scenario and give them equal rights. In the end, the performance of India in the Olympics 2021 is the current example where India has won seven medals. Out of those seven medals, six came in individual events and out of those six medals, female athletes won three. It shows that even after facing such hardship, their performance is at par with male athletes. With so much potential, it is only a matter of time when women will overtake men and have all their abilities on display for the world to see!

Report: The theme for the International Day of Rural Women (15 October). "Rural Women Cultivating Good Food for All", highlights the essential role that rural women and girls play in the food systems of the world.

From production of crops to processing, preparing and distributing foods, women's labour – paid and unpaid – feeds their families, communities and the world. Yet, they do not wield equal power with men, and as a result, they earn less income and experience higher food insecurity.

Despite our planet's capacity to provide sufficient and good food for all, hunger, malnourishment, and food insecurity are rising in many parts of the world. The COVID-19 pandemics, along with climate crises, have made matters worse: some 2.37 billion people did not have enough to eat in 2020 –that's 20 per cent more than the year before.
